Merit Information

Overview of allocation, merit, and adjustment determinations

Each division will be allocated a pool of resources for fiscal 2018/2019 to be utilized for all salary adjustments and promotions throughout the year. This allocation will be communicated to departments by the Dean or Vice President of the area. The allocation is based on all positions within a department; including filled and open staff positions, student, contingency and other pooled positions.

Ensuring equity across departments

Departments must determine merit increases using the allocated funds from their Dean/Vice President and based on the performance of each employee. Funding from restricted accounts or other sources should not be used to provide increases higher than the merit guidelines. This is important to ensure equity across departments and to abide by the Uniform Guidance for Federal Awards government guidelines which stipulate “… “Compensation for services provided must be in accordance with institutional policy and procedure and federal statute.”

Handling pay adjustments

Other pay adjustments for July 1, 2018, which are consistent with the compensation policy, must be approved by the appropriate Dean or Vice President of the area. Further adjustments, such as equity, require HR Compensation review. If your department/division has these situations please contact either HR Compensation or your HR Consultant.

Merit Guidelines for Exempt and Non-Exempt Staff

In setting salaries for fiscal 2018/2019, use the following considerations:

- As the university continues its goal to create a performance culture, individual performance impacts merit pay; therefore, managers must assess employees’ performance for the year prior to determining merit pay for their area. Holding recommended performance calibration sessions provides a method to compare employees’ relative contributions and how it equates to merit increases. Year-end staff performance reviews are due no later than May 15, 2018 and the Workforce Planning tool for Staff closes May 25, 2018.

- Merit Matrix: The chart is a guideline to assist you in establishing merit increases based on performance, as assessed through the performance management system. The merit increase for each staff employee may not exceed the merit matrix unless there are other adjustments approved in advance by HR Compensation. A detailed analysis will be performed on the data to make sure the merit matrix and performance ratings are in accord.

• The University strives to create and maintain an environment that emphasizes the importance of relating work performance to University goals and values. ND Voice survey results told us that employees desire and expect differentiation in the performance management process. As a general guideline, based on the performance rating scale being utilized by the University, we would expect to see the distribution of merit increases within a given department as follows:

Remember, based on the performance rating scale being utilized by the University, we would expect to see the distribution of merit increases within a given department as follows:

Requires improvement” performance rating in the “How” or the “What“ results in a 0% increase. Individuals with this rating are not meeting either individual goals and/or behavioral expectations.

Salary increases should not be communicated to individual employees until departments/divisions are notified by HR Compensation that audits have been completed and the labor budget distributions are approved.
Merit Distribution Considerations

The location of an individual’s current salary within the market reference range should impact whether the increase is at the low or the high end of the merit increase guidelines. For example, assuming performance is the same, a person who is low in the range should receive a higher merit increase than a person who is high in the range. Here is a specific example:

- Employees whose salaries are at, near or above the maximum of their market reference range may be eligible for a base pay increase and/or a merit lump sum depending on their performance rating. Please refer to the Lump Sum Payment information on page 9.

- A current performance review must be submitted through the performance management system by May 15, 2018 for all employees as documentation supporting the merit increase request. You will not be able to submit an increase without a current performance review unless a specific exception has been made and approved through HR.

- If a requested merit amount is greater than 5.5% a memo of explanation needs to be attached in the notes section of Workforce Planning prior to its closing on May 25, 2018.

- Merit increases are given once annually and are effective July 1 of each year; any salary increase outside of the July 1 annual merit cycle requires HR/Compensation approval.
Merit Distribution Restrictions

- Individuals hired between April 1 and July 1, 2018 are not eligible for merit increases until July 1, 2019.
- Individuals promoted to a new position between April 1 and July 1, 2018 are not eligible for a July 1 increase; therefore, when setting the promotional salary, keep in mind the employee will not be eligible for a merit increase until July 1, 2019.
- Other than a Merit Increase, the following need to be handled outside Workforce Planning through the use of a Staff Personnel Action form: a change in hours; return from a leave; or a position change after Workforce Planning has opened. Here is the link to the form: http://hr.nd.edu/assets/20190/staff_paf10.xls

Salary increases should not be communicated to individual employees until departments/divisions are notified by HR Compensation that audits have been completed and the labor budget distributions are approved.

Reports and Audits

Once an area completes their salary setting in Workforce Planning, HR Compensation will be performing various audits to ensure merit adjustments are within the merit guidelines and compensation policy. Departments/divisions should review all reports available to ensure compliance prior to submitting the salaries for review: https://tableau.nd.edu/#/workbooks/2285/views
Lump Sum Payments

This information will assist in addressing employees with base pay that is at, near, or over the maximum of the market reference range. All staff increases, including lump sum payments, must abide by allocated budget and merit guidelines. The employee’s performance rating influences the options available.

a. Steps to Process Base Pay Increase & Lump Sum
   - Enter base salary increase in Workforce Planning.
   - Follow steps in item b below to process lump sum amount unless the employee falls under item a. above.

b. Steps to Process Lump Sum Payments
   - Enter the base salary increase of 0% in Workforce Planning, select “Max of Range” for reason.
   - Enter the lump sum amount on the “I/P Comp Items” tab in Workforce Planning for the July 2018 period. This information is for budgeting and reporting purposes and must be accompanied by an Additional Pay Form to generate the payroll transaction.
   - An Additional Pay Form should be completed for the lump sum increase, and it must be submitted to addpay@nd.edu on or before June 1, 2018.
   - If a large group of employees (greater than 10) within a department have lump sum payments, an Excel spreadsheet can be provided to HR Compensation Department in lieu of separate Additional Pay forms. The spreadsheet must include ND ID, Name, Position Number, and the Lump Sum Payment Amount. These forms are due no later than June 1, 2018.
